Plaintiffs,

ORDER

v.

RIMINI STREET, INC., a Nevada ) corporation; SETH RAVIN, an individual, )

Defendants.

Before the court are plaintiffs Oracle USA, Inc., Oracle America, Inc., and Oracle International Corporation's (collectively "Oracle") motion to seal request to rule on objections (Doc. #764<sup>1</sup>), motion to seal objections to jury instructions (Doc. #769), motion to seal opposition to motion to admit exhibits (Doc. #813), motion to seal motion to exclude deposition testimony (Doc. #826), motion to seal portions of motion to exclude expert opinions (Doc. #829), and motion to seal supplemental filing (Doc. #833).

Also before the court are defendants Rimini Street, Inc. ("Rimini Street") and Seth Ravin's ("Ravin") (collectively "defendants") motion to seal opposition to exclude deposition testimony (Doc. #836) and motion to seal opposition to motion for reconsideration (Doc. #851).

1 As an initial matter, the court is acutely cognizant of the presumption in favor of public
2 access to papers filed in the district court. See Hagestad v. Tragesser, 49 F.3d 1430, 1434 (9th Cir.
3 1995). Therefore, a party seeking to file materials under seal bears the burden of overcoming that
4 presumption by showing that the materials are covered by an operative protective order and are
5 also deserving of confidentiality. See Foltz v. State Farm Mut. Auto. Ins. Co., 331 F.3d 1122, 1135
6 (9th Cir. 2005). Specifically, a party must “articulate compelling reasons supported by specific
7 factual findings that outweigh the general history of access and the public policies favoring
8 disclosure.” Kamakana, City and County of Honolulu, 447 F.3d 1172, 1179 (9th Cir. 2006)
9 (internal citations omitted).

10 Here, in this intellectual property action, the court has entered a protective order governing
11 documentation and testimony that is confidential to the parties’ internal research and development,
12 internal business strategies, and other highly sensitive areas. The court has reviewed the documents
13 and pleadings on file in this matter and finds that the documents at issue in the present motions
14 contain information that is either designated “Confidential” and/or “Highly Confidential” under the 15 protective order. The court finds that the parties have satisfied their burdens to show compelling
16 reasons for filing the various pleadings under seal. Further, the court notes that the parties
17 appropriately filed redacted versions of the same pleadings for public record. Accordingly, the 18 court shall grant the parties’ motions.

20 IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that the parties’ various motions to seal (Doc. ##764, 769, 21 813, 826, 829, 833, 836, 851) are GRANTED.

22 IT IS SO ORDERED.

23 DATED this 22nd day of October, 2015.
